RICKY PONTING – RETIREMENT VERTIRAMIC

AUSTRALIA'S greatest run-scorer, Ricky Ponting, retired after the Perth Test against South Africa, ending one of the most distinguished cricketing careers of all time. The Tasmanian has compiled an astonishing record, scoring 13,366 Test runs at an average of 52.21, after an illustrious 17-year career. He is the second highest run scorer of all time behind Sachin Tendulkar. Only Tendulkar has played more Tests and Ponting equalled Steve Waugh's Australian record of 168 Tests in Perth.

Ponting led Australia to unprecedented success in Tests and one-dayers during his tenure as captain. This limited edition display is personally hand signed by Ricky Ponting and is authorised by Cricket Australia and is also accompanied by a certificate of authenticity and A-Tag authentication.
